2024 Kindergarten Family Survey

Introduction to the 2024 Survey

The Kindergarten Family Survey was open to parents of children who attend kinder in Wyndham between July 1st and August 31st, 2024, and 723 people responded to it. A total of 714 respondents, and this remained consistent for the rest of the survey. The responses provided suggest that the kindergarten service provided across all centres is highly valued and appreciated by parents, who see it as a crucial step toward school for their children.

Responses to the survey suggest that parents were particularly appreciative of the efforts of Educators (and kindergarten staff more generally) and the indoor and outdoor learning environments. Parents were happy with the development their children were making through the various programs of learning and were grateful for the support and caring nature of the centre staff. Several responses made note, that their children were happy at kinder and enjoyed the time they were there and wished they could have more days at kinder. Overall, many thought the centres were safe and welcoming.

An area concern expressed by respondents' communication and feedback about their child. This covered a variety of areas for improvement, including in feedback about individual child progress, communication about events or other services hosted by the kinder. Parents also thought there could be more variety in the play-based activities they did throughout the day. In contrast to previous iterations of the survey, fewer people were concerned about the parking and safety during drop off and collection. Some people did express that it was difficult to get parked at peak times especially at centres with shared facilities with outer services.

In this version of the survey the languages spoken at home were collected. For the people who responded 70% (501) people spoke a language other than English at home with Urdu, Punjabi, and Hindi being the most common languages. When looking at the free text responses, there is a mix of response types: many of the non-native English speakers provided responses expressing gratitude toward the educators and staff for taking care of their children. Whereas others were critical that not enough was being done to prepare their children for school by not teaching more formally.

Comment-based responses frequently named individual staff at centres and were phrased in a way that suggested respondents expected their feedback would be reported directly back to those Educators and other staff.

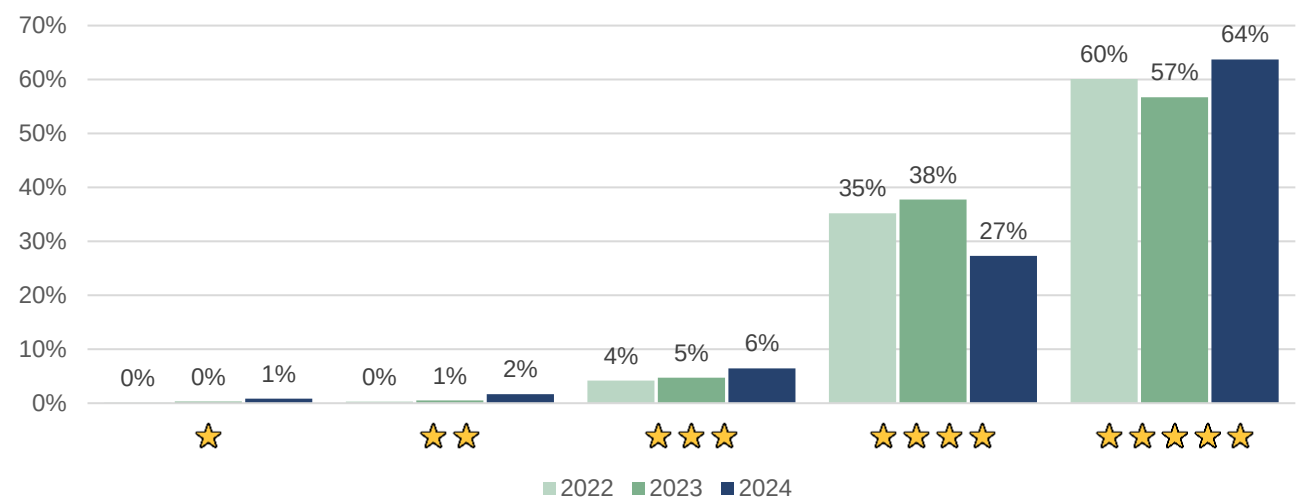

Section 1: Quality

Question 1. Overall, how do you rate the quality of your child's kindergarten?

A total of 714 people responded to this question.

There has been an increase in the number of people who rated the quality of the kindergarten as five stars between 2022, 2023, and 2024. Overall, 91% of respondents in 2024 thought the kindergarten was good or excellent, which was only 13% higher than 2023.

Question 2: How likely are you to recommend your kindergarten to someone else?

A total of 714 people responded to this question.

There has been an increase in the number of people who rated the quality of the kindergarten as five stars between 2022, 2023, and 2024. Overall, 91% of respondents in 2024 would be highly likely (4 and 5 stars) to recommend the kindergarten was good or excellent, which was only 13% higher than 2023.

Question 3: Things that I like at my child's kindergarten are...

A total of 714 people responded to this question and 25 people who skipped it.

569 of respondents (80%) Liked the indoor and outdoor learning environments and 561 of respondents (79%) liked the teaching staff.

Question 4: Things that could be better at my child's kindergarten are...

A total of 714 people responded to this question and 25 people who skipped it.

Communication has once again been raised as an area for improvement. The most common these included concerns the levels of individual feedback, organisational communication, and updates throughout the day communicate with parents. However, 46% of respondents thought everything was fine.

Section 2: Partnerships with families

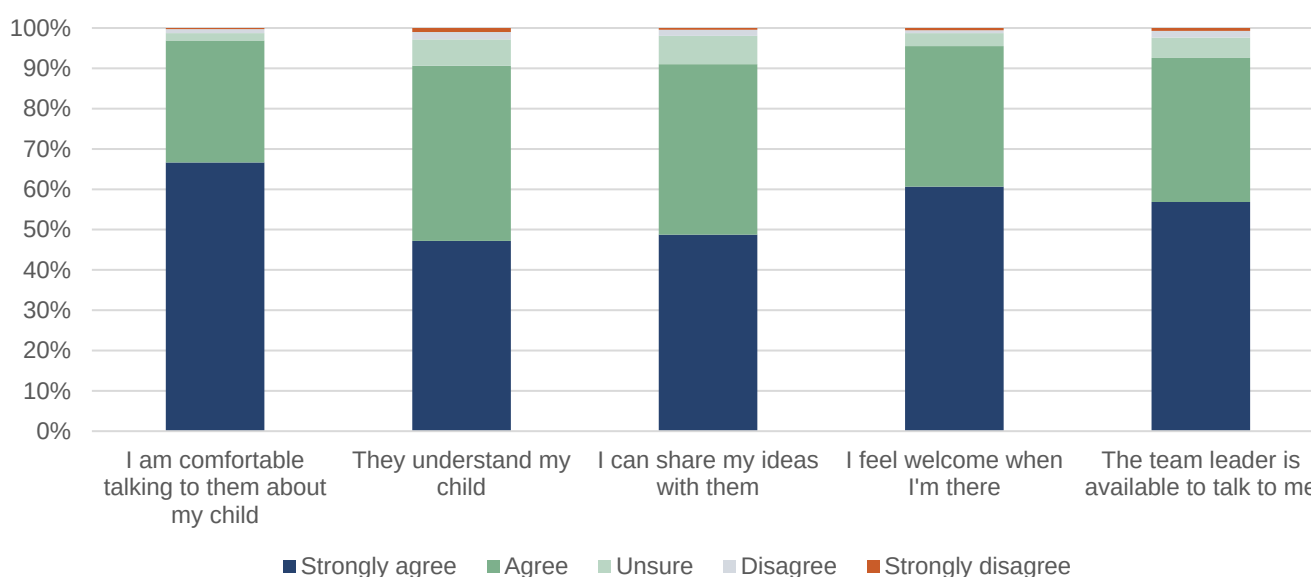

Question 5: How do you feel about engaging with the kindergarten staff?

A total of 714 people responded to this question and 25 people who skipped it.

Approximately 91% or more of respondents either agreed or strongly agreed that Teachers/educators understand their child, could share their ideas with educators on what their child wanted to learn, felt welcome at their kindergarten, and felt comfortable talking to the teachers/educators about their child.

When looking at the disagree and strongly disagree categories, the question with the higher frequency of these responses was They understand my child. Although, the rates of disagreement were small at less than 3% of respondents.

Question 6: How well does the kindergarten communicate with you?

A total of 714 people responded to this question and 25 people who skipped it.

More than 84% of respondents either agreed or strongly agreed that their kindergarten received information about their child's learning, felt welcome at their kindergarten, knew what was happening at my child's kindergarten, and receives information that supports my child. 73% of respondents either agreed or strongly agreed that they knew where to find kindergarten policies.

When looking at the uncertain, disagree and strongly disagree categories, the question with the higher frequency of these responses was I receive enough information about my child's learning. About 9% of respondents felt they weren't receiving enough information.

Question 7: Have you accessed any of the following services...

A total of 714 people responded to this question and 25 people who skipped it.

To note from the above chart, 7% of respondents felt they needed more information about available services, and 40% hadn't accessed any of these additional services. The maternal health nurse was the most access service with 26% of respondents indicating they had utilised this service, with 24 respondents from Featherbrook Kindergarten indicating they had used this service.

Question 8: Which topics would you like more information on

A total of 714 people responded to this question, and 25 skipped it.

There has been change in response behaviour compared to 2023, however the top three topics are the same albeit in a slightly different order. Furthermore, there has been an increase in responses to Supporting your child's individual / diverse needs, getting more involved at the your child's kindergarten, and Importance of play compared to 2023.

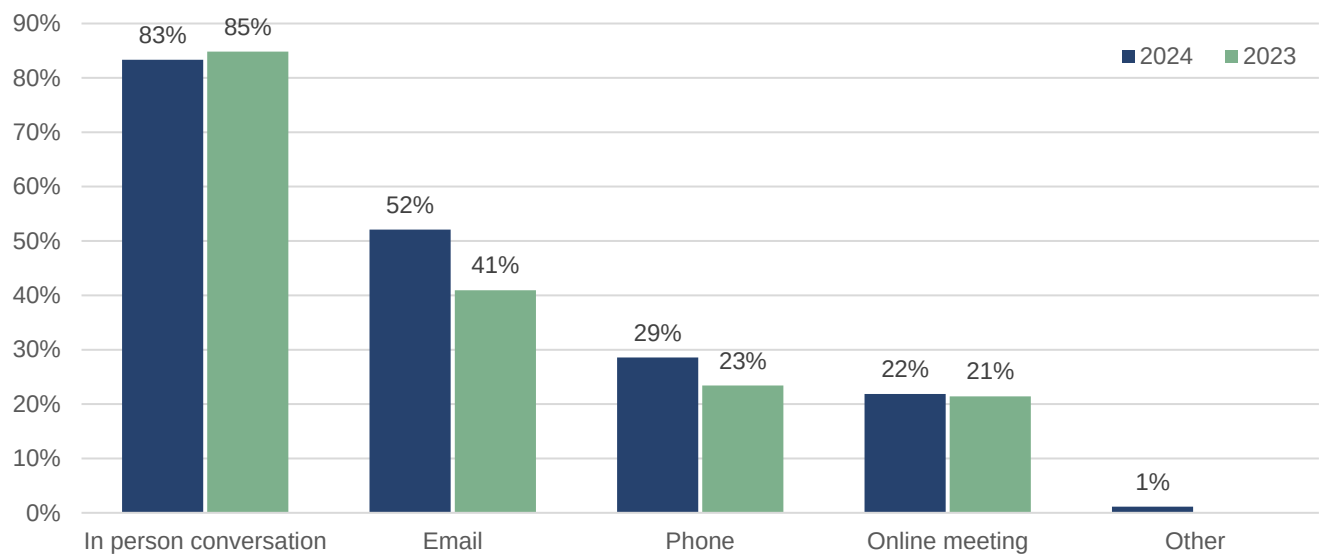

Figure 8. The proportion of responses to topic on which further information is desired..

Question 9: How would you like to be involved and communicated with about your child's learning?

A total of 714 people responded to this question, and 25 skipped it.

Consistent with 2023 results, the majority of respondents felt that in person conversations were the best approach. There was an increase in people who though email and phone conversations was acceptable. The small proportion (N=8) who selected Other were unanimous in suggesting Storypark as a suitable communication method.

When comparing the results across centres the most preferred modality of communication was in person conversations with an average 83% of respondents (Featherbrook 73% N=52; College Road 82% N=47, Arndell Park = 82%, N= 46). Little River had the highest with 100%, but only three respondents in total so they have been treated as an outlier. The least preferred modality was online/webinars with an average 22% of respondents (Point Cook CLC 38%, N=16; Thomas Chirnside 36%, N=9)

Section 3: Children's learning, environment, and wellbeing

Question 10: Please rate the following statements...

A total of 714 people responded to this question, and 25 skipped it.

The two aspects relating to how parents perceive their child to be engaging with the kindergarten are rated highly; 93% agree their child is confident attending the centre, and 89% feel their child looks forward to attending the centre and/or seeing their educators. The question with highest degree of disagreement related to communication about ancillary services that could be beneficial to their child's development.

Question 11: Feel free to expand on your response above here (Q10 free text follow up question)

A total of 124 people responded to this question, and 615 skipped it.

This was a qualitative response question that was analysed based on the whether the response was considered to be one of satisfaction or dissatisfaction. The themes were compiled based on previous surveys and applied based Wyndham City on the number of themes present within the comment. In total there were 196 themes coded over 123 responses. For the satisfied responses, the highest frequency code was Enjoyment (N=28) and this related to the child enjoying their time at the centre or looking to attending on their nominal day. For the dissatisfied responses the code with the highest frequency was Communication (N=8), For the neutral responses, Nothing (N=7) was the highest frequency response.

Following are example of satisfied responses:

"I love the way my twin boys have become independent, comfortable and confident since they attend Kindy and I enjoy them showing and telling me what they have learnt so far."

"I'm so happy with this years teachers and my kids experience so far. Last year my son refused to return to school which meant he missed out on 2 whole terms because a teacher he didn't like for some reason. Now she is not there he loves going to school."

"เทอมแรกลูกสาวของดิฉันยังมีความกังวลที่จะไปโรงเรียน ร้องไห้บ้าง แต่คุณครูดูแลเอาใจใส่ดีมาก จนตอนนี้เทอม3ลูกสาวดิฉันชอบที่จะไปโรงเรียนแล้วแล้วเธอไม่ร้องไห้แล้วเธอสนุกที่จะได้ไปโรงเรียน ดิฉันรู้สึกขอบคุณมากค่ะ 🙏😊"

Translated as:

In the first semester, my daughter was still anxious about going to school and cried a little. But the teachers took good care of her. Now in the third semester, my daughter loves going to school and she doesn't cry anymore. She enjoys going to school. I feel very grateful. 🙏😊"

Following are example of dissatisfied responses:

"My child attends a kindergarten in point cook community centre and I get no feedbacks about his progress. The goals are very random and parents can't see the evaluation of the goals including observations are not shared with the families."

“My child has felt pressured to engage with other kids who he does not get along with which has caused anxiety and kinder refusal. He had no issues last year socially, he just doesn't mesh with the current group of kids.”

“He doesn't have a relationship with his main teacher at all. She is away very very often and he doesn't feel he can go to her. He has a great connection with his secondary teacher and is much more comfortable with her. She is always present and engaged”

Question 12: Please rate the following statements about the environment at your child's kindergarten:

A total of 714 people responded to this question, and 25 skipped it.

The statement that received the highest ratings of Strongly agree and Agree was The room is safe and The kindergarten is welcoming with 98% of respondents agreeing to this. The statements with the lowest level of agreement were The yard is safe and The yard is accessible for children with diverse needs both with 2% of respondents selecting Disagree or Strongly disagree.

Question 18: Age Group

There was some apparent confusion about to whom this question was related, there 125 responses indicating the person was under the age of nine years. It would seem the question wasn't clear that it was enquiring about the age of the person completing the survey and not the child or children attending the centre. For relevance, the selection has been limited to 20 to 65 year olds.

Question 23: Please share any final comments, feedback or suggestions here...

A total of 272 people responded to this question, and 467 chose not to provide any feedback.

Coding was undertaken based on themes from previous years and categorised based on the sentiment of the response. As this was an open text field, the respondents could add what they wanted based upon their experience with the centre. In total 40 themes were identified and categorised into Satisfied, Dissatisfied and Neutral categories. Overall, most respondents were happy with the centre their child attended with 73% (N=180) being coded as satisfied, 19% (N=47) as being dissatisfied, and 8% (N=20) as being neutral.

Some examples of Satisfied responses

"We love all the little incursions and activities that our Kinder organizes for the children. I think this sets them apart. [REDACTED] teacher is outstanding in connecting with [REDACTED] when he has had some big feelings and anxieties in the past and I feel he is in safe and caring hands when I leave him. I do wish Kindergartens were zoned, much like schools are as I have found the enrollment process extremely stressful. And not being able to attend our local kindergarten has been a logistical nightmare for our household."

Me and my daughter had wonderful experiences in Navy group JW kinder. Educators are excellent and they accept parents ideas (eg activities) and make it real. They welcomed parents to share the cultural experience with kids and it helps kids for growing

Our son's first experience of being in an educational environment has been carefully managed by [REDACTED]. From the start, they've made him feel safe and comfortable. He has thrived in their care, become more independent, increased his confidence, developed social skills and manners, and learned a lot. They've also made this transition smooth for us as parents, too. They communicate openly, on a regular basis and in a timely manner. We are always aware of where he is at. Also, we've always felt comfortable to leave [REDACTED] in their care.

We love Arndell Park Kindergarten and continue to have a fantastic experience. The teachers make all the difference. They are friendly, welcoming and always available to talk. They work hard to know the kids so well and come alongside parents to support the different stages their kids are going through. The room is always peaceful and calm during drop off and pick ups which is a great achievement and we always feel cared for.

Thank you, featherbrook kinder garten and teachers team helping my child growth. Kids they worried and confused when they didn't see their favourite teacher.

If teacher regularly focused on group activity where kids share, play and interact together will be best.

Some examples of Dissatisfied responses

'I had really good experience with 4 yr old teachers when my elder child attended last year . This year , 3 yr staff is bit disappointing as i conveyed them regarding paint on my daughters cloth which didn't come off after wash also. Moreover i want my child to learn to follow what is right practice which they will continue in school(using smock) . One day even i picked her up with all wet clothes covered under jacket / i always provide extra clothes . She must have been there with wet arms all the time- in cold weather. I did not even talk about it but i feel not much attention is paid in making sure if children are doing okay . '

'It was a very disappointing experience. [REDACTED] was negatively impacted from his time here. I have had to spend more time with my son to make him feel secure again, which was achieved very easily once he stopped attending Featherbrook Kindergarten. Educators are not experienced, they are not dedicated to this age cohort, [REDACTED] was very cold with my son, he never developed trust with her. She was constantly absent. When discussed with [REDACTED] she became defensive and not helpful and instead wanted to accuse me of applying for 2 funded 3 yr old programs which was and is not the case. Staff are uncomfortable with feedback which in turn was showing they were not helpful to improve their time with my son whilst he attended'

'My child is on the cusp of the date cut off for enrolment. I feel disadvantaged that a second year of four year old kinder is almost impossible to achieve without two 'domains' of delay, while there is also no requirement to enrol children as soon as they reach the age. As a result, my child may need to attend school next year, while others who did not enrol their child for 3yo kinder with birthdays before April 30, will be able to send their child to school when they turn 6 before April 30. This will see my child starting school at age 4, with others who are already 6. Further, children starting school in the grade below, may be older than my child in the grade above. My concerns as a parent do not feel heard, and internal policy of 'no private fee paying' limits our options further and will have implications on my child. I am worried about this on a daily basis and wish I could go back in time and not enrol my child in 3yo kinder. I am upset that a decision when my child was 2, is likely to have an impact on their whole life. Prior to the government funding, I had greater autonomy over my kinder choices. As parents we do not believe our child is at all ready for school next year, largely from an emotional point of view. It would be detrimental for our child to return to childcare as the alternative.'

Children's toilets needs a privacy screen. The doors to the toilet are left open. Parents educators and other children can see anyone using the toilet.

When giving feedback or stories on storypark, please include all kids in the classroom, even if a kid may not be up to scratch as the rest, the parent wants to see what their child is doing also not just constant stories and pics of other kids in the class and not 1 single pic with our child in it. I may as well just not be notified about it as whats the point? Inclusivity of all kids and not just singling out certain kids because staff cannot seem to understand how they operate by term 3 already and not have plan in place to provide things best suitable for that child in order to help them grow not just letting them run rampant because they simply cannot handle them.

I was a bit disheartened with the approach of Mother's Day. They decided to call it 'Special Persons Day'. I found this to be quite hurtful and insensitive to mothers, I believe it should be called Mother's Day and/or Special Persons Day. We shouldn't diminish Mother's Day. If we change the name, what's the point of celebrating it, we could do parents day instead inbetween Mother's Day and Father's Day. Just need to be coherent across all celebrations.

I would suggest that those children who are currently doing 3 years old kinder will continue their 4 years old kinder at the same place and continues to have the same teachers. It's very challenging for the families to face with transition and change.

More frequent feedback and updates on the progress of the child would be helpful. Example monthly.

Please do introduce formal education through playing so that kids can have a strong baseline for future formal educations.

Just more info about how the kids are going and what they need to work on

Some more excursions would be good
